

Lorna Dewey of London Announces Expansion of Product Offering to US Market

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

High Point, NC – September 24, 2007 – Lorna Dewey of London, Hildenborough Kent, UK, announces new product introductions to its dining room categories.

Introductions this Market include the eight by eight foot china breakfront in mahogany with four hand-cut glass doors, glass shelving and xenon lighting. The bottom section features four cupboards and silverware drawers in the center. Styled after our successful Georgian breakfront secetaire, this handsome addition to the line will add value and good looks to the home. Also being introduced this market is a 60 to 80-inch extending round, burr walnut dining table.

Terry Facey, owner, spoke about the expansion, “Our dining room case goods business has grown considerably over the last six months in the US and customers are asking for more items to offer. We listened, and have introduced several new pieces this market.” he continued, “As a major supplier of fine English antique reproductions handmade in the United Kingdom, we are aware that the landscape of manufactures of this product has diminished over the past year, and we have invested in the US side of the business.”

Alan Barrows, US manager added, “This has been a crucial year for us as a manufacturer to accommodate the changing business climate. We believe there is much growth to be had in the US market and we have positioned ourselves to supply that growth. We have strengthened the business with additional SKUs, revised our pricing downward and significantly upgraded our catalogue.”

Also, Lorna Dewey of London is pleased to announce that Comitti of London, makers of fine English clocks and barometers will be located in their showroom this market. Comitti of London is a family owned business since 1850.
